Through the partnership Our Sunday Visitor will assist in expanding the Biblezon content, and develop an eBook platform and Catholic marketplace for content delivered to parishes, schools, home schools and individuals. “This will allow Our Sunday Visitor and Biblezon to deliver a rich faith formation experience for Catholics of all ages,” stated Joe Wikert, President of Our Sunday Visitor publishing.

“It is an honor to join with Our Sunday Visitor to provide our great Catholic education resources to an even wider audience,” said Mosongo Osong, CEO of Biblezon. “It is really a perfect partnership on many levels. Our Sunday Visitor publishes some of the most important religious education texts in use today. The materials we provide through Biblezon and Catholic Brain serve to reinforce learning and put technology at the service of religious ed.”

“We know how important technology is in the education landscape,” added Wikert. “Particularly important to us is combining technology with great Catholic content that will help children and families learn to love and live their faith.”
